BITCOINDAY NAPLES · JANUARY 2027

BITCOIN NEEDS ART TO SURVIVE

The old money is failing artists. A main-stage talk and panel on what holders can do about it, an artist's own story told with a live Lightning payment, and a gallery of original work. Part of BitcoinDay Naples, presented by Bitcoin For The Arts, a 501(c)(3), to some of the most committed bitcoin holders in the country.

DATES
January 15 to 16, 2027
Friday VIP party · Saturday program

PLACE
BitcoinDay
Naples, Florida

THE ROOM
About 200 investors, builders, and capital allocators

THE ASK
$15,000 BitcoinDay event sponsorship
Includes the arts program

THE CASE

THE FIAT FUNDING MODEL IS BREAKING ARTISTS

Art has always depended on patrons. Today the patrons, the box office, and the public money are all losing ground to the same force: money that buys less every year. Costs rise faster than ticket prices, donations, or grants can follow, and artists are the first to be cut.

$4.4M

Operating deficit at the Met in fiscal 2025, even after raising $294.9 million

94%

Of seats sold, and a $1 million week on Broadway only breaks even

0 of 18

Commercial musicals from the 2024 to 2025 season in profit by that fall

$27M+

In federal arts grants cancelled in May 2025, about 560 awards

Even the giants are struggling

The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the largest art museum in the United States, ran an operating deficit for the second year in a row as staff and program costs rose. On Broadway, Cats: The Jellicle Ball won three Tony Awards, grossed about $1 million a week, and still closed after five months. Andrew Lloyd Webber said Broadway is in "dire danger." The cost of mounting a musical has roughly doubled in a decade.

The working artist feels it first

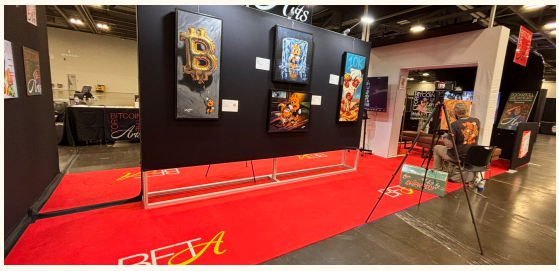

If institutions with billions in assets can't keep up, independent artists have no chance on fiat terms. A fee agreed in January buys less by December. Savings built in a good season lose value in a quiet one. Payments arrive late, and middlemen take a cut each time money changes hands.

WHAT THIS ROOM CAN CHANGE

Bitcoin holders already understand sound money. Artists need it most and have been shown it least. Bitcoin For The Arts pays artists in bitcoin, money that can't be printed, sent over Lightning in seconds with no middleman. A gift from this room goes straight into that bridge: grants to working artists, education in sound money, and live programs that bring culture to bitcoin and bitcoin to culture.

We have done this before

In September 2026 Bitcoin For The Arts opened Bitcoin Arts Park at the Midwest Bitcoin Summit in Columbus: live music, theatre, painting, film, and a silent auction for artists. Every artist on the bill was paid.

Sources: The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Annual Report for the Year 2024 to 2025. The New York Times, "The Broadway Musical Is in Trouble," September 22, 2025. The Guardian, July 14, 2026. ABC7 New York, "Is Broadway broken?" 2026. PBS NewsHour, on National Endowment for the Arts grant terminations, May 2025.

THE PROGRAM

WHAT THE ROOM WILL SEE, HEAR, AND PAY

Run of show

SATURDAY MAIN STAGE

Panel: Bitcoin Needs Art to Survive

Dion Wilson lays out the funding crisis facing artists and institutions in the fiat world, and why high-net-worth bitcoin holders are the patrons who can change it: by funding bitcoin culture, bringing art to bitcoin events, and taking bitcoin art to the next level. Ainsley Costello brings the working artist's view.

Dion Wilson · Ainsley Costello

SATURDAY 10 MINUTES

Ainsley Costello: art, story, and bitcoin

A TED-style talk. Ainsley shares her journey as a Gen Z independent artist, how she found bitcoin, and what it changed, ending with a live Lightning payment to an artist from the stage.

Ainsley Costello

SATURDAY ALL DAY

The Bitcoin For The Arts Gallery

Original work curated by Bitcoin For The Arts, from artists across disciplines, not only bitcoin art. Every exhibiting artist is paid. Works are on view in the room and sold through an online auction with CLCT, our auction partner.

Curated by Bitcoin For The Arts · Online auction with CLCT

SATURDAY ALL DAY

Bitcoin For The Arts table

Our mission, artist grants, sound money education, how to give in bitcoin, and Sovereign Circle sign-ups.

Dion Wilson

FRIDAY NIGHT VIP PARTY

Live performance, venue permitting

If the VIP venue supports a band, Ainsley Costello performs, with guests paying the artist in sats from their phones. Produced by Phantom Power Music, which provides the performance equipment.

Ainsley Costello · Phantom Power Music

The program closes with three asks: collect or commission from working artists, pay artists directly in sats, and give to Bitcoin For The Arts.

Who is in the room

BitcoinDay is an intimate, high-signal gathering of bitcoin holders with the means and the interest to commission, collect, and give.

~200	57 to 198	9.45	4,000+
Investors, builders, and capital allocators	Attendance growth, 2023 to 2026	Attendee Net Promoter Score	Social followers, plus a livestream

BUDGET · $15,000

WHERE EVERY DOLLAR GOES

One event sponsorship, paid to BitcoinDay. BitcoinDay keeps $7,500 for the conference and the artist's travel, and passes $7,500 to Bitcoin For The Arts, Inc. That half follows our published rule: 55 percent to artist grants, 30 to programs, 10 to operations, and 5 to the HODL Vault, our bitcoin reserve.

BITCOINDAY · $5,000 | TRAVEL · $2,500 | BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS PROGRAM · $7,500

LINE	WHAT IT PAYS FOR	AMOUNT
BITCOINDAY		$7,500
Conference	Supports the production of BitcoinDay Naples 2027.	$5,000
Artist travel	Ainsley Costello's travel, paid by BitcoinDay to Phantom Power Music.	$2,500
BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS · ARTIST GRANTS 55%		$4,125
Exhibiting artist grants	Five artists at $500, including shipping to Naples and back.	$2,500
Artist Grants Pool	2027 Bitcoin For The Arts grants to working artists, paid in bitcoin.	$1,625
BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS · PROGRAMS 30%		$2,250
Photo and recap video	The talk, panel, and gallery, cleared for the sponsor's use.	$900
Gallery display and signage	Easels, labels with QR codes to the online auction, and signs.	$600
Event insurance	Liability coverage and coverage for the art on site.	$350
Program and Lightning demo	Printed program credit, slides, and the live Lightning demo.	$400
BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS · OPERATIONS 10% AND HODL VAULT 5%		$1,125
Program coordination	Agreements, scheduling, receipts, and a report to the sponsor.	$750
HODL Vault	Held in bitcoin to sustain the mission.	$375
Total	Payable to BitcoinDay as one event sponsorship	$15,000

HOW IT IS PAID

One sponsorship, two partners

The sponsor pays BitcoinDay. BitcoinDay pays Phantom Power Music for the artist's travel and gives $7,500 to Bitcoin For The Arts, Inc., which receipts the gift.

Want your own charitable receipt? Give the $7,500 directly to Bitcoin For The Arts.

ART SALES

Two-thirds to the artist

The works are auctioned online through CLCT, our auction partner. When a work sells, two-thirds goes to the artist and one-third to CLCT, which donates a portion of its share to Bitcoin For The Arts.

Sales are in addition to this $15,000. Not in this budget: Dion Wilson's travel and lodging, which he covers himself.

BITCOINDAY ARTS SPONSOR

WHAT THE SPONSOR RECEIVES

01 · CREDIT

Event and arts sponsor

Recognized as a BitcoinDay event sponsor, and as presenting sponsor of the panel, the talk, and the gallery, on signs, screens, and the printed program.

02 · STAGE

A thank-you from the stage

Named from the main stage during the panel and at the giving moment.

03 · MEMBERSHIP

Renaissance Guardian Circle

One year at the top level of our Sovereign Circle: name a 2027 grant cycle, join the annual strategy call with our board, and review grant applications early.

04 · CONTENT

Photos from the day

Cleared for the sponsor's reuse with credit. Recognition on our donor page, in the newsletter, and in pre-event promotion.

Bitcoin For The Arts, Inc., a 501(c)(3), receipts the $7,500 arts gift to whoever gives it, BitcoinDay or the sponsor, stating any benefits. Confirm tax treatment with your own advisor.

The team

PRESENTER	Dion Wilson Founder and executive director, Bitcoin For The Arts. Former Broadway dancer and Actors' Equity member, in bitcoin since 2015. Leads the panel, curates the gallery, and hosts the table.
ARTIST	Ainsley Costello Independent pop artist from Nashville and co-founder of the Epoch Music App, a Lightning tool for independent artists. Spoke at BitcoinDay 2026, and opened Bitcoin Arts Park at the Midwest Bitcoin Summit in September 2026.
PRODUCTION	Phantom Power Music Production partner, led by Julie Costello. Provides the performance equipment. Production lead for Park Nashville 2027.

Giving at BitcoinDay

- Give bitcoin, not cash. For bitcoin held more than a year, a donor can generally deduct fair market value and avoid capital gains tax. Gifts over $5,000 need a qualified appraisal.

Next steps

01 Confirm the sponsor and sign the BitcoinDay program agreement.

02 Confirm times, sound, stage, and the Friday venue with BitcoinDay.

03 Select the artists and list the works with CLCT.

BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS

Dion Wilson
Founder and Executive Director
dionwilson@bitcoinforthearts.org

BITCOINDAY

John Drew
Producer, BitcoinDay Naples
john@bitcoinday.io

Bitcoin For The Arts, Inc. · New York 501(c)(3) · EIN 41-2642260 · A $5,000 supporting sponsor option is also available.