

Q3 2026 PRELIMINARY BUDGET

BITCOIN FOR THE ARTS, INC.
JULY 1 TO SEPTEMBER 30, 2026

Q3 2026 Preliminary Budget

Founding-year operating framework for Bitcoin for the Arts, Inc.

Because Q3 revenue is heavily contingent on Midwest Bitcoin Summit sponsorship execution, this budget is presented as a range. The board is asked to approve the spending framework, not fixed dollar-by-dollar allocations.

NOTES FOR THE BOARD

- 1. Midwest Bitcoin Summit is the single largest Q3 revenue and expense driver. Under the current sponsorship structure, revenue and expense are largely correlated. A Presenting Sponsor commitment funds a full booth build; lower commitments require the scaled-down build described in the sponsorship proposals.
- 2. Nashville 2027 sponsorship development program launches in Q3. Board-directed corporate outreach and major-gift cultivation are the primary revenue-diversification investments for H2 2026. Q3-Q4 execution determines Q1 2027 capacity.
- 3. Founder-related restricted contributions expected to decrease as external revenue grows. The board should not treat founder contributions as a structural revenue line. They have been essential in the founding year and are gratefully acknowledged, but the organization's fiscal sustainability depends on external revenue growth in Q3-Q4.
- 4. Bitcoin treasury discipline continues. Dollar-cost averaging Strike purchases from operating fiat capital continue. Bitcoin transitions to the multi-signature HODL Vault following Q3 board-member wallet setup meetings. Lightning-network Bitcoin donations continue.
