Bitcoin for the Arts, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit empowering artists with Bitcoin micro-grants, education, and sovereign funding tools. We are the first nonprofit paying artists exclusively in Bitcoin. Our work spans podcast journalism, original publishing, micro-grant deployment, an Artist Directory, and on-the-ground cultural programming at major Bitcoin conferences.

Our public footprint is small but compounding. We are a startup nonprofit operating with limited resources, building the patronage model that the arts and the Bitcoin movement both need.

The Midwest Bitcoin Summit returns to the Greater Columbus Convention Center on September 23 and 24, 2026. Bitcoin for the Arts has secured a dedicated 30'-wide footprint on the Expo Hall floor and access to the Secondary Stage for two days of programmed lunch-hour performances. The Summit has reciprocal access with a co-located conference in the adjacent hall, bringing the cross-event audience to an estimated 7,000+ attendees.

Inside the BFTA footprint we will run a curated film cinema (silent-disco headphones, no audio bleed), a Living Room brand and demo zone with a Lightning wallet activation, a Gallery wall with peer-to-peer Lightning silent auction, and a merchandise and donation counter. On the Secondary Stage, two days of programmed live performances by Ainsley Costello and other working artists on a Bitcoin standard. The whole footprint is BFTA-programmed end to end.

"Culture is not a luxury. It is essential civic infrastructure. And the rail it runs on matters more than the headlines admit."

IF THE FULL $60,000 IS NOT RAISED

If the campaign falls short of the full ask, Bitcoin for the Arts will scale the build to match committed funding and deploy any committed funds first to the operational backbone of the BFTA Bitcoin Arts Park. Dirty Coin will still be presented at the Summit through a decentralized rental of the film, without director travel, if the director presentation allocation is not separately covered. Donors will receive a full reconciliation against actuals after the Summit.
