THE PROGRAM

SOMETHING HOLDERS CAN SEE, HEAR, AND PAY

New technology reaches the mainstream through culture. Napster pulled millions online by making digital music cool. The iPod turned a music library into a statement of taste. The automobile spread because it became a statement of status and freedom. Bitcoin needs the same pull, and music and art are the fastest way to create it. Holders already understand the network. What they need are real places to spend bitcoin and real reasons to care about the people on the other end of it.

Run of show

FRIDAY NIGHT VIP PARTY	Live set with Lightning payments	Ainsley Costello performs. Guests pay the artist in sats from their phones, then a short giving moment for Bitcoin For The Arts. Ainsley Costello and band
SATURDAY ALL DAY	A featured work, curated by CLCT	One original bitcoin-native work by an independent artist, named as a supporter of Bitcoin For The Arts. Bidding on site and online in sats at clctibles.com. Curated by CLCT · Hosted by Dion Wilson
SATURDAY ALL DAY	Bitcoin For The Arts table	Our mission, artist grants, how to give in bitcoin, and Sovereign Circle sign-ups, with the featured work on display. Dion Wilson
SATURDAY 10 MINUTES	The Music Industry Problem	A seven-minute talk on how royalties fail independent artists, then a live demo of a music video earning bitcoin through the Epoch Music App. Ainsley Costello
SATURDAY 30 MINUTES	The Next Million Users Are Fans	A live Lightning payment to an artist as a music video plays, then a panel on how holders turn bitcoin into patronage and real spending. Dion Wilson · Ainsley Costello · Kyle Shirkness

The session ends with three asks: collect or commission from bitcoin-native artists, pay artists directly in sats, and give to Bitcoin For The Arts.

Who is in the room

BitcoinDay is an intimate, high-signal gathering of bitcoin holders with the means and the interest to commission, collect, and give. Our program lets them watch a Lightning payment reach an artist in seconds, and gives them a direct way to fund more of it.

CLCT curated the gallery and ran the auction. Shipwreck Sean painted live over two days, and Short North Stage brought Sweeney Todd with youth performers. BitcoinDay gets the same partnership, focused on one performance and one featured work.
